

Read Me Notes: Simply Slideshows

October 2006

Second Navigation Menu

The second navigation menu, at the very bottom of the page containing only three items, uses an xtra text box. You will need to go into the Layout window and substitute your own text for the menu items and insert the appropriate links to link each item to the desired page in your site.

Album & Group Pages

This theme is designed for using a slideshow display for all of your photos (instead of a thumbnail album display), and is thus intended for all album pages to use the Slideshow Gallery template and all Group pages to use the Group Page template.

Group Page template

The text on the Group page template is intended to include a short descriptive paragraph that falls after each photo. This template is intended to follow the following order: first caption, first photo, descriptive text, second caption, second photo, descriptive text, and so on. If your text for the top photo is lengthier and wraps around the second photo, simply move the second photo down the page (from within the Layout window) to allow more space for the text.

Templates Containing Text

The Group, Bio, and Contact templates may need to be adjusted if your text content extends beyond the position of the navigation menu. The text will wrap around the elements at the bottom of the page, but the elements will not automatically reposition themselves. You will need to go into the Layout window and move the navigation menu, the xtra box containing the second navigation menu, and the masthead down further on the page in order to keep them all positioned below your text content. The footer will automatically adjust.
