Slideshow Captions

The slideshows in this theme are intended for two line captions only. If you go beyond two lines, the caption text will overlap the slideshow control buttons, which will require you to move all elements down further on the page. However, the design is best suited for two line captions only (including the two caption box images), and for aesthetic reasons, using more than two lines of caption text is not recommended.

Xtra Text Boxes template

The two text boxes below the slideshow are designed for a limited amount of text - the amount of text which fits inside of the height of each box. The first text box (to the left), is the text you composed while in the Content window; the second text box (to the right) is an xtra text box where you will need to input your own text from within the Layout window. For both boxes, if you go beyond the limited height in text lines, you will need to decide which is more important: the graphical text box used for the display, or the text you are inputting for the page. You will either need to reduce the amount of text you are using or eliminate the graphics used for the boxes; or choose to not use that particular template in your site.

Main Group Page template

This template utilizes the text content box, plus two xtra text boxes. The first column of text is the text you composed while in the Content editor. The second and third columns of text are xtra text boxes where you will need to input your own text from within the Layout window. If your text spans further down the page than the default height of the text boxes, the image that falls below the text will need to be repositioned further down on the page. This image is the fifth photo in your group album. If you have less than five photos, no image will appear in that spot. Additionally, to maintain the look/effect, you will need to move the two xtra image boxes down to the same position as the fifth photo. If you use this template on a regular album page, the thumbnails will open a large picture when clicked on.

This template is the same as the Default Album template, with the exception of the navigation menu. The menu is set to show only the group page and sub menus for that group ("Single - Pages in Group" option).
